If getting addicts involved in helping their fellow sufferers is key to their recovery, as Pagano believes, it could revolutionize the treatment of alcohol and drug addictions.

She and her friend were planning to go to Arusha that day, she told me, making their way north toward Ethiopia.